Japan-A Country with Frequent Earthquakes

Japan has many earthquakes, most of which are small. However, major earthquakes can cause significant damage, toppling buildings and generating fires. Ongoing preparations and precautions are important to minimize damage.

Things to Keep in Mind When an Earthquake Strikes

- ① First, stay in safe place.
- ② Quickly deal with potential fire sources.
- ③ Ensure an escape route by leaving a door or window open.
- ④ If a fire breaks out, extinguish it in its early stages.
- ⑤ Do not panic and run outside.
- ⑥ Stay away from narrow roads and cinder-block walls.
- ⑦ Beware of landslides.
- ⑧ Evacuate on foot.
- ⑨ Cooperate with your neighbors in rescue and first-aid activities.
- ⑩ Obtain accurate information.

Evacuation Information

Kisarazu city issue 3-stage evacuation information.

- ① Hinan Junbi Joho = Evacuation of those in need of help
 - Prepare immediately for evacuation in order to be able to evacuate anytime. Pay attention to radio/TV broadcasts and to information from public loudspeaker vehicles.
- ② Hinan Kankoku = Evacuation Advisory
 - Start evacuation smoothly to a Hinanjo or Hinanbasyo.
- ③ Hinan Shiji = Evacuation Directive
 - Evacuate immediately to a Hinanjo or Hinanbasyo. If you fail to evacuate, move to a high building or other elevated location nearby.

Attention to Tsunami Chuiho & Keiho

Japan Meteorological Agency (Kishocho) issue 3 types of forecast on tsunami.

- ① Tsunami Chuiho
 - Issued when required to call attention to a tsunami. Expected level of the tsunami is about 0.5m at the highest point.
- ② Tsunami Keiho
 - Issued when tsunami disaster is expected. Expected level of the tsunami is about 2.0m at the highest point.
- ③ Massive Tsunami Keiho
 - Issued when serious tsunami disaster is expected. Expected level of the tsunami is about 3.0m or higher at the highest point.

Preparing for a Disaster

The following items should be kept on hand in case of a disaster

- Food, Water, First-aid kit (medicine), Portable radio, Flashlight, Mobile phone, Clothing (underwear), Tissue paper, Wet tissue, Writing utensils, Towel, Rain gear, Candles&Match/Lighter, Money (cash), Bank book, Seal (inkan), Identification document (Driver's license, Health insurance card, Disability certificate, Maternity passbook, Family photo, etc), Plastic bag.

Households with babies

- Powdered milk, Baby bottle, Baby food, Diapers, Clothing.

Elderly or invalid persons

- Medicine, Articles required for care, Diapers

Tips to Remember While at Evacuation Sites

- ① Everyone will be extremely unsettled: Try to act in a mutually supportive manner.
- ② Follow any instructions given by municipal employees and local association officials.
- ③ Do not be misled by hearsay. Listen for accurate information.
- ④ Maintain health and hygiene.

Evacuation Sites & Areas

Kisarazu city has established 53 evacuation sites (Hinanjo) at schools and other locations. Some 20 parks and other locations have also been designated temporary evacuation areas (Hinanbasho). Confirm the nearest evacuation site with family members to eliminate confusion when an emergency occurs.

Difference between Evacuation Sites & Areas

- ① Evacuation sites = Hinanjo
 - These are emergency shelters from rain and wind, such as schools and community halls.
- ② Evacuation areas = Hinanbasho
 - These are places to evacuate to avoid risks from the spread of fire and objects collapsing or falling due to aftershock.
